Death List in Gates Mine Explosion 25; Bodies of All But One Removed

That Not Recovered Located Funeral of M. J.
Under Slate Fall in Blast Area.

FALLS MENACE RESCUERS

Becomes Necessary to Halt Operations
From Mine Entrance and Work
From Edmonson Opening; Only Two Americans Among Those Killed.

The death toll in the explosion Thursday morning in the Gates mine at the H. C. Frick Coke Company stands at 25. All others have been accounted for.

Of the dead, the bodies of 24 were recovered and the remaining one has been located under a fall of roof slate and coal.

Screen bodies were recovered Thursday. This morning at 4 o'clock 12 more were brought to the surface, at 10 o'clock another and at 11 o'clock the day.

Owing to danger from further falls of the roof the rescue workers were compelled to give up operations from the Gates entrance and enter the mine from the Edmonson opening.

The names of only two Americans appear in the list of the dead. They are Martin J. Brennan of Connellsville and Thomas Horne of Elbert.

Not a person escaped from that section of the mine in which the explosion occurred.

Official identification of the bodies, all of which were taken to the morgue of H. A. Johnston at Masontown, was under way today. That of Mr. Brennan was established by his brother, James A. Brennan, who identified the body Thursday afternoon at Johnson's morgue at Masontown. The brother was accompanied by Rev. L. D. McNamara, assistant rector of the Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic Church and of Youngstown Community of the Knights of Columbus.

The only surviving member of the family, besides his father and stepmother, Mrs. Catherine Brennan, is a brother, James A. Brennan, who identified the body Thursday afternoon at Johnson's morgue at Masontown. The brother was accompanied by Rev. L. D. McNamara, assistant rector of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Arrangements were being made by Funeral Director J. E. Slone to bring the body to Connellsville this afternoon. The funeral will probably be Monday morning.

Mr. Brennan would have ready to leave the mine within 30 minutes after the time he was killed, his brother said.

BOMB LEFT BY VILLA TAKES LIVES OF FIVE

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 3.—Five children were killed while playing in the Cruz de Galvez school yard in Hermosillo, Mex., when one attempted to extract powder from a bomb left there when Francisco Villa's forces stormed the town according to a dispatch received today in San Antonio.

A large flame wreath, purchased by the coke company, has been placed in each casket.

Every indication points to the men having been asphyxiated. Several were found with handkerchiefs in their hands as if to place them to their mouths and noses. Indications were that others had dipped their handkerchiefs in dinner-pails and stuffed them in their mouths to prevent asphyxiation.

It is believed that some of the men had finished their work and were leaving the mine when the explosion came.

Excluding of a shot, which ignited a bomb held by mine experts to have been the cause of the disaster.

The explosion occurred in Butt 19, about two miles from the entrance to the mine.

No time was lost after the alarm had been given in organizing rescue workers to begin the work of removal of the men from the mine. Superintendent Samuel W. Brown, Patrick Fulton, Frick Inspector, State Mine Inspector B. E. Girod taking charge.

President W. H. Clugerman, Clay Lynch, general superintendent, and V. C. Hood, assistant general superintendent, were among those who were ready to be voluntary.

Rescue workers were gathered from all parts of the coke region.

Mrs. Brown, wife of the Gates superintendent, organized a staff of women and began serving hot coffee and sandwiches to the rescue workers. She did efficient work, men about the place testify.

W. P. Schenck, general secretary of the Fayette County Red Cross, visited the mine and offered the services of the Red Cross in whatever capacity it might be needed.

The bodies brought out at 4 o'clock today were those of James Fagnella, Joe Popson, Steve Popson, Nick Steanic, Artis De Corcecoing and Andy Steanic.

At 10 o'clock the body of Peter Hall, 20, was found and an hour later that of Mike Cukovich. Nick Steanic, Wm. Steanic, Mike Youarchuk, John Dallaglio and John Chubela.

WIRES CAUSE FIRE

Names at Goldstone Home Are Quickly Checked.

Fire yesterday evening did some damage at the home of Sol Goldstone, 211 Vine street, when crossed wires in the basement ignited the wood work and the flames ate their way between the walls to the attic.

The fire department was called and quickly controlled the flames, confining them to the narrow passage and reducing the loss. Had the fire occurred at night it might have gained considerable headway before being discovered. The damage was not heavy, although much of the lath work was practically destroyed.

SCOUTS WILL OBSERVE WEEK FEBRUARY 8-15

Anniversary to Be Made Worth While Occasion by Troops of Connellsville.

NUMBER GOOD FEATURES

At the meeting of the requirements last evening at the local Y. M. C. A. the boy-Scout program was completed for the coming anniversary week of the Boy Scouts, February 8 to 15, in which all the troops in the city will participate.

Starting Wednesday, February 8, there will be a mass meeting held at the Y. Proundont speakers will be on hand. Friday the 10th, the Scouts will parade, the route taking them through the business section of the city. The parade will start at 7:30 o'clock. Drill will be held on the Connellsville school grounds before and after the parade.

On Saturday there will be a bike for all Scouts. In the city, starting from the Y. M. C. A. at 10 o'clock and going to Rudolph's Cabin. Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church, a special sermon will be delivered by Rev. E. H. Stevens of that church. Also a poll will be taken in the question as to what made a better impression than at any time since the conference began.

M. Sarrault is an unpretentious man. He is less impressive both in dramatic appearance and in public fame than either of the other two Frenchmen who have been the spokesman for France in the conference in the past—M. Briand and M. Viviani.

At the time I met him Anatole was already planning to come to America, and shortly after I returned he came over and visited me and my mother in New York," she said. "She said that time I have seen much of him."

"His life has been tragic. His father was a chief of the gendarmerie at Wazas, and was killed by revolutionists in 1910. He does not know what happened to other members of his family. He fled to Constantinople, and when discharged from the army came to Paris, where I met him."

Mrs. Stephens said that Anatole Vassilievsky, 36, is a native of Southern Russia, which were rottenated by the Bolsheviks, and is a friend of the old regime.

"It is true this assumption is almost universal. Even the apologists for France have said, by way of justification, that if she could get from Great Britain the sort of agreement that she wants, she would be willing to go further along the complete program of what Hughes proposed. Nevertheless, the attribution of motive to anybody is one of the most inexact and least useful forms of criticism. If we are dealing in motives at all, probably we should admit that France's chief motive is fear, and fear in all ways selfish."

"Of course, America is not going to change its present feeling about France merely because of a single speech. But if that speech reflects a realization on the part of France, however violent, of responsibility for the war, and if she is sincere in her desire to make amends, it will be a change of attitude for the future. America should meet it generally. There will be other conferences after this. Washington one, France exists. She is one of the family of nations, and if she is disposed to make it difficult to get along with her, that disposition should be welcomed wholeheartedly."

The degree of adverse sentiment toward France that has grown up in America is very damaging to her and has alarmed her leaders. The flow of charity from America to France threatens to be interrupted. Americans who are engaged in maintaining French war-orphanages have threatened to abandon this benefaction. The dependence which is put upon America for the restoration of parts of France, through scores of familiar forms of organized charity, is threatened. Ambassador Jusserand the other day spoke in a state of obvious alarm over the letter he is receiving.

Frank De Frank, 41 years old, of Smithton, died Thursday in the Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, from a gunshot wound in the abdomen. De Frank was wounded Tuesday night when a family quarrel between Italians at Smithton took place. His niece, Mrs. Asunda Martucci, was wounded and was removed to the Uniontown Hospital.

De Frank was shot, it is alleged, by Mrs. Martucci's husband, known as "Little Jim," who made his escape following the fight. It is said that the woman's family opposed her marriage to Martucci and since then had been held in evidence. Mrs. Martucci was shot when she attempted to interfere.

De Frank was a laborer for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Smithton.

MRS. STEPHENS, 45, RUSSIAN FIANCÉ 23; WEDDING TOMORROW

Money Does Not Figure, Says Former Fiancée Girl, Whose Wealth Is $30,000,000.

Mrs. Marion Reina Stephens, to marry Anatole Vassilievsky, a former Russian nobleman, now employed as a laborer in the Baldwin Locomotive Works at Philadelphia, will be married tomorrow at 1 o'clock in New York.

"Happiness," she said, "is not a question of money. Money has nothing to do with my marriage, one way or another. We shall live simply, in accordance with my husband's position, although we are not going to live in precisely the kind of a workman's cottage described as typical. I expect to be very happy."

"The man I am going to marry is older than his years. The experience he has gone through, particularly those in the armies of General Donkin and Baron Wrangel, has made and developed him beyond his years. I have always been sympathetic with Russian and Russians."

Her fiance is aged 23, and Mrs. Stephens is 45.

At the time I met him Anatole was already planning to come to America, and shortly after I returned he came over and visited me and my mother in New York," she said. "She said that time I have seen much of him."

"His life has been tragic. His father was a chief of the gendarmerie at Wazas, and was killed by revolutionists in 1910. He does not know what happened to other members of his family. He fled to Constantinople, and when discharged from the army came to Paris, where I met him."

THE HUMAN EQUATION AND SAFETY.

Although the immediate cause of the explosion in the Gates mine, which resulted in the loss of 25 human lives, has not been determined by official investigation, and may never be ascertained, it will be the consensus of opinion among mining men that it was another of those instances which illustrate the truth that the human equation is the factor of most uncertainty in the operation of all measures, rules, regulations and devices designed to promote safety in hazardous undertakings.

In no mining region in the world has there been greater advances in the art of more intelligent and pains-taking care been taken to more precautions provided to reduce the dangers of underground employment than in the Connellsville coke region. The operating companies have spared no expense nor counted no effort too great to prevent not only the loss of life but also the bodily injury of their employees. With the H. C. Frick Coke Company, at whose plant the accident occurred, "Safety the First Consideration" has been no catch phrase or meaningless slogan. First consideration has at all times and everywhere been given to the safety of the humblest worker, and the same is equally true of other operators.

Employees have been constantly instructed, drilled and trained in the most approved methods of accident prevention, and every device to safeguard life and limb has been installed once its practicability has been demonstrated. Mine officials are not permitted, over if they had the inclination, to relax their vigilance day or night. In the performance of all tasks in and about the mines the safest, not the quickest or easiest, method is insisted upon. The immunity from disasters which the region has enjoyed for over 30 years is the best proof that can be offered that the safety policies of the operating companies have been practical and have been applied efficiently.

It is known, however, that every rule, regulation or other instrumentality the purpose of which is to minimize the dangers of mining is, after all, dependent upon the intelligence and care of the individual whose safety, along with that of other workers, is sought. It is a moment of carelessness or neglect, a single employee does what all have been warned or instructed not to do, his own life and the lives of others become endangered or are snuffed out, according to the circumstances or conditions.

It is not known that the Gates explosion had such an origin but it deserves to direct attention to the weakness of the human element in all systems designed to insure the safety of industrial workers of all classes.

A NEW EPOCH IN THE WORLD'S HISTORY.

In bringing about a halt in a naval competition the Conference for the Limitation of Armaments accomplished even more than its most sanguine proponents hoped. In this, which was but one of its achievements, it marks the beginning of a new epoch in the history of the world.

The fact that the program outlined by Secretary Hughes at the opening session was carried through with only slight variation from the original schedule is not only recognition of the leadership of the United States but it is confirmation of the fact that the delegates at the conference were almost part of one accord in the view that the time had come when nations must give concrete evidence of their oft-repeated protestations that they desire nothing so much as world peace.

While our modesty should forbid us appropriating more than our share of the credit due, it is not out of place to say that save for the initiative of the United States and the firm adherence of our delegates to a pre-arranged program, much less would have been accomplished. It is, therefore, with a feeling of pardurable pride that Americans can review the work of the conference, the great achievements of which can be briefly summarized as follows:

The Five-Power Naval Treaty.

Limits capital ships in the navies of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, including those ships now in use, those now building, and those planned.

Provides that ships not retained shall be scrapped by sinking, breaking up or use as targets.

Allows the replacement of retained ships by those in a 20-year period or immediately if vessels are lost or destroyed.

Included agreements reached by the United States, Great Britain and Japan concerning fortifications in the Pacific ocean.

Agreements in force for fifteen

The Shantung Agreement
Japan will restore to China the former German leased territory of Kiaochow and China will name a joint board to draft the details of the settlement. Documents necessary to the administration of the territory will be turned over to China not longer than six months after the date of the present protocol.

Public property now held by Japan will be given over to China with a few minor exceptions.

Japan renounces all treaty rights and privileges in the China-Japan Sea treaty of 1898.

Great Britain will return Wel-Hai-Mei to China.

The Submarine Warfare and Poison Gas Treaty.

The powers agree to restrict submarine warfare to safeguard non-combatant vessels.

They also agree to the use of poison gas in war.

While the conclusion of these treaties and agreements does not wholly remove the possibility of war, such definite steps have been taken in that direction that war is made much less probable than ever before. To that extent it can well be said that the conference does, indeed, mark a new epoch in the world's history.

He Spoke in Time

Philadelphia Ledger.

A Scranton pastor who counseled a young woman of his flock against marrying a young man whose family history revealed his unfitness for marriage is to be commended. The aggrieved suitor proceeded to bring another suit against the minister, but a jury, after very brief deliberation, has brought in a verdict for the clergyman.

If everybody showed the same courageous frankness in giving warning to those contemplating matrimony, there would be a considerable reduction in the number of non-eugenic marriages. There would not be so many innocent children paying for the marital mistakes of their progenitors.

"Marry Parsons" and complacent justices of the peace with an eye to the fees and not to the unborn often sin against the future of the race. At present those who insist on mental and physical well-being as a prerequisite to a matrimonial alliance are to some extent pathfinders; before long they will find themselves on a broad and beaten highway traveled by the thoughtful portion of mankind.

Former Down to 116,000 and the Latter Up to $888,000 Tons During Week Ended January 21.

According to the weekly report of the United States Geological Survey, compiled by F. G. Tryon and W. F. McKenna, a slight decrease marked the production of beehive coke in the United States during the week ended January 21. From records of coke loaded by the principal railroads, the total output is estimated at 116,000 net tons, as against 119,000 in the week preceding.

In the Connellsville region, according to the Courier, production declined from $8,910 to $6,500 tons.

In the three weeks since the beginning of the year a total of 344,000 tons has been produced, less than half as much as in the corresponding period of 1921.

The production by states, compared with the corresponding week of 1921, was as follows:

	1922	1921
Pennsylvania and Ohio	38,000	218,000
West Virginia	8,000	12,000
Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia	4,000	9,000
Illinois and Kentucky	5,000	11,000
Michigan	2,000	4,000
Washington and Utah	1,000	5,000
U. S. Total	116,000	258,000

Production of soft coal increased 6.4 per cent. The total output, including lignite, mine fuel, and coal coke, is estimated at 8,888,000 net tons or 334,000 tons above that of the week preceding.

At the present rate production probably exceeds consumption, so that a small part of the week's tonnage went to build up the storage piles of consumers. While production, however, is still some 100,000 tons short of the maximum reached last October, when apprehension over a possible railroad strike induced a temporary increase in demand.

Production of bituminous coal during the first 248 days of the past five years, beginning April 1, has been as follows:

1917-18	1918-19	1919-20	1920-21	1921-22
141,654,600	147,456,000	145,341,300	142,633,400	132,371,000

THE DREAMER.

The road lay straight before him, but the byways led him astray. And the serpent pit послал him to the forest's cool dim.

And the song birds' happy chorus seemed to lure him further on. "Twice a day of wondrous pleasure—but the day was quickly gone.

We wondered at his dreams and his wandering far astray.

But we were catching vision by the gold and silver way.

I fancied he had a measure of a sort I couldn't buy.

I fancy he saw something in the clouds above the trees.

DUNBAR COMMUNITY MOURNS DEATH OF BELOVED TEACHER

Special to The Courier.
DUNBAR, FEB. 3.—The death of Miss Mary Belle Bowden Monday morning came as a severe shock to the entire community, and is a distinct loss to Dunbar, to the church and to the public school of which she had been so long a faithful, conscientious teacher, graduating with the first class in its borough schools. She at once began teaching and was a marked success from the very start. Many pupils who were fortunate enough to have her for an instructor are sincerely mourning the loss of a teacher whose high upon their lives was always to lift them up. Upon her bier they would lay their tokens of love most tenderly leers of genuine sorrow. Her place in the schoolroom will be hard to fill in place in the hearts of her pupils can never be filled. But those who mourn sorrow not as those without due, for they know the Master she so faithfully served has but called her from labor to reward.

To high-broken sister, as faithful and successful in the school room and club as the one summoned, the deep sympathy of the entire commun-

"THE STORE THAT DOES THINGS FOR YOU."

It goes out in tenderness that may not be measured.

"Rip Van Winkle" was up to an attraction to Dunbar people last week. Among others who were delighted with the play were Ned H. Koffer, George Leopold, Mrs. L. L. Koffer and daughter Ruth, Mrs. C. W. Baker and Mrs. H. L. Brown.

Quite a number of Pechin and Koffer girls are employed at the silk mill in Connellsville, and all are making good. The girls seem better able to secure employment than the men, as a large number of men in this section are without employment.

Puchin Chapel now has a bell to call to worship, and it is quite an addition to the building. The bell was secured from Mount Independence School, North Union township, it having served for many years on that building. When the school building was remodeled and made a modern four-room school the old bell was turned off and left by the roadside out of service. Principal J. L. Koffer of that school secured it for Puchin Chapel and its musical tones ring out now every Sunday to call the people to Sunday school. Last Sunday was the first time it was put into service.

Mrs. Arthur Kennedy of Hill Farm and her friend, Mrs. J. N. Shuey of Connellsville, spent Friday last with Mrs. Frances Weymeyer of Ferguson.

Mrs. Lida Lehman Twiss and husband of Alix were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lehman of Keffers on Sunday.

Mrs. Frances Weymeyer, son Clyde and daughter, Mrs. Eudie Fry, of Ferguson were visiting Mrs. William Abbott of Dickerson Run on Sunday.

John M. Miller and family have moved from Ferguson road to Mahoning.

P. R. R. engines were responsible for fires on Mount Braddock farm and on the old Courtney farm north of Ferguson Monday. The fires burned over a considerable area, but did little damage further than to burn the dead grass and weeds and the corn stalks. They were put out shortly after being discovered.

Thomas Jose, who had been suffering from rheumatism for some weeks, is much better and able to go about his work.

Miss Magdalene Miller of Dickerson Run was the guest of Miss Margaret Senior of Keffers last weekend.

Miss May Hardy, teacher of Irishtown school, was visiting on Ferguson road Sunday.

Mrs. David Cole of Keffers was calling in Uniontown Monday.

Why Are Some Women Popular—happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female."

The well woman "radiates cheerfulness and serenity while the failing one repels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to labor about and pains,

Believed the Three-
Company Steel Mergers
Has Fallen Through

In Pittsburgh steel circles it is believed that the three-company merger project has followed the seven-company project into the discard. The three-company project involved Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, Steel & Tube Company of America and Inland Steel Company.

These were the remains of the seven-company group after there had been dropped Republic Iron & Steel Company, U. S. Steel Company, Laclede Steel Company and Midland Steel & Ordnance Company.

LABOR SITUATION CONCERN'S ALL COAL MINING INDUSTRY

Not the Union Fields Alone, Says Leading Central Penna. Operator.

LATTER UNDER HANDICA

In his recent address before the Westmoreland Coal Club at Greenburg, Thoma H. Watline, president of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Corporation, declared that the union labor situation concerns the entire coal mining industry, whether in the union or non-union fields.

"Some of you in the non-union fields may think that you are not particularly concerned with the conflict that is imminent through the fact that the present sole agreement of the United Mine Workers of America and the union operator, expires on April 1," said Mr. Watline. "To those who hold this view I would say that they are directly interested.

"The only protection this country has today from complete domination and control of the industry by organized labor lies in the fact that the non-union values of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Alabama, and a few small outlying sections, are in the control of those who are maintaining their positions through bitter struggles and hard trials to gain right to employ their labor upon such terms as may be agreed upon without the influence of the professional labor leader.

"A wage condition which results in a variation in costs at the mines, continuing in the same markets and on the same freight rates of as much as one dollar a ton, and on the average 10 to less than 75 cents a ton, is obviously one that results in the diversion of tonnage from one mine to another in the same district and from one district to another. This has gone on to a remarkable degree already; indeed, it is in one district, work in another; it is in one, a reasonable living in another.

"Non-union mines are free to make such adjustments as are necessary to meet changes in economic and competitive conditions, and made them months ago. Union mines, through the system of collective bargaining, and especially today through conditions forced upon them by government intervention and commissions, are under the handicap of a contract expiring April 1.

"A stable and equitable wage scale, with variation, for living and working conditions in various districts taken care of, would be desirable, but how can such a condition be brought about?

"I do not know. But one thing is certain, that the union operators of central Pennsylvania, of Pittsburgh, of Ohio, and of some other sections cannot, without committing financial suicide, agree in advance to abide by the award of any commission that does not leave each district on an equal and fairly competitive basis with other producing districts.

"Any law or commission that attempts to fasten, as the Bituminous Coal Commission did, upon one group of men a contract which leaves the other group free to act as they consider for their best interests, will, in my judgment, prove a failure, and in that direction you will not find a solution.

"It bedevils us, both union and non-union operators, to seek a solution of the problems before us, which will well safeguard the interests of capital and labor.

One which will convince the public that we are handling the problem on broad, conservative lines."

SKIRT STYLES FOR CHILDREN

Popular Rule is to Make Garment Short; Low Waistline Favored by Majority.

The question of skirt length has not been a disturbing one in styles for children as it has in these for grown-ups this season, the popular rule being to make garments for juveniles absorbed as to length.

Up to the age of fourteen there is no rule in regard to waistline pinching, it's somewhat imaginary point being high, normal or low, according to the figure of the child. The girl of fourteen, however, finds the low waistline favored in her frocks and many little coat dresses that are practically replicas of those approved for women are worn by these young girls.

A SPECIAL FOOD FOR OLD PEOPLE

A Great Discovery Made at a Well Known Medical College to Ward off Feeble-mindedness in Old Age.

There has been a good deal of discussion lately in regard to old people—some at 50 call themselves old and really appear so, while others at 70 years seem active, vigorous and young.

We see it illustrated every day, all around us. It is not years, but loss of vital force, probably caused by malnutrition, that makes a person seem old. Weakened digestion, thin blood and a poor circulation soon start vitality on the wane.

Therefore, we feel free to say, every man and woman who feels old, whether they are 40 years or not, will be interested to know that for some time the medical profession has been recommending dietary treatment for such weak, feeble, nervous conditions.

Now nutritional science has come to the rescue, and, for the first time since we have conducted a drug store we are able to furnish you a remedy that has been tested and approved by a professor of physiological chemistry at one of America's greatest medical colleges, known as SUSTO Nutritivo Tonic Tablets. They have really proved a wonderful discovery to ward off the feeble conditions of old age and keep one active and well. They supply in concentrated form the strength and life-giving elements of yeast, rice, eggs, milk, with beef protein and iron which are lacking in our daily food. They are easily digested and give one a hearty appetite, promote sound sleep, and impart strength and vitality to every organ of the body. We guarantee SUSTO. ## SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost every one knows that Sage and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.

THE SOISSON.

"THE MYSTERIOUS RIDER"—One of Zane Gray's fascinating stories, is the ch of attraction today and tomorrow. The story centers around Columbo, the foster daughter of Bellounds, an Arizona rancher. Columbo's parentage is a mystery. But she is loved and returns the love of her foster father, whose great hope is that she will some day marry his son. Another man loves her, but to please her foster father she becomes engaged to Jack Bellounds. And you, the spectator, will not want her to marry Jack. The love triangle grows more interesting every moment, especially after the entry of the fascinating Mrs. Smith. A feature every one will enjoy is the abundance of good comedy. A porcupine, a group of humorous ranch hands, and the famous motion picture laugh-makers, Frank Hayes and Aggie Herring, make scene after scene of joyous, wholesome fun, pleasantly interspersed with the keen dramatic and emotional scenes, the mystery, and the unfolding of the love story, to the great, smashing conclusion of the picture.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"MIRACLES OF THE JUNGLE," a marvelous animal production, is the feature picture today and tomorrow. In this sensational picture, a band of 30 ferocious lions was used, in addition to tigers, leopards, elephants and gorillas. In addition to the principal players, a band of native Africans was brought into use through the whole of two production. Ben Hargrave who played the role of Tom Hatchaway, one of the secret service men sent on a serious mission to Africa, in one scene actually came in grips with a lion. It had been arranged that Hargrave was to shoot the beast as it sprang at him. Just at that moment his machine rifle jammed, and he went down under the terrible impact of the hurtling animal. The lion, with one powerful blow, laid open the actor's arm from elbow to shoulder. The director and other members of the company had been circling around the man and beast, waiting for a chance to finish off the man-killer without injuring Hargrave, and this opportunity presented itself just to the nick of time.

THE ORPHEUM.

"SAY-HIGH."—The feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre presents Tom Mix, the whirlwind Fox star, in the leading role. First in the order of importance, perhaps, are the scenes in which Mix, as an immigration officer, drives an airplane through the Grand Canyon of Arizona. This is tremendously thrilling, and its equal for daring and for beautiful photography has probably never been seen in any other picture. Next comes Mix's leap from the plane into the Colorado River. His leap of eleven feet from one precipice to another where fall one would have meant his death thousands of feet below; his heart-stirring horse-back riding up a steep canyon trail and around the edge of the canyon; and his slide of 125 feet down a sheer cliff on a rope. The story concerns Mix's efforts to squelch a gang which is smuggling Chinese through Arizona into California from Mexico. To complicate the plot, the young immigration officer falls in love with the pretty Eastern-bred ward of the Western gunner.

“DIAEPSIN” ENDS STOMACH MISERY FOR MILLIONS

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Papa's Diaepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless antacid helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't feel comfortable, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your druggist a 60-cent case of Papa's Diaepsin. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal griping. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion.

NO IMPORTANT CHANGE IN IRON AND STEEL SITUATION PAST WEEK

Widespread Buying But Only in Small Tonnages; Prices Slashed When Good Orders Are to Be Had.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

The iron and steel market situation has shown no important change in the past week. The general condition is that demand has not improved since January 1st to the extent expected and is not back to the volume obtained before the holiday fall.

On the whole, mill bookings in January totaled little more than bookings in December, which was regarded as an off month by comparison with any one of the three months preceding.

Steel ingot production has been running at a rate probably between 18,000,000 and 20,000,000 tons a year, against rates of 20,000,000 tons in October and November.

INCORPORATION OF LABOR UNIONS IS PROPOSED IN N. Y.

Bills to Be Introduced in the Legislature for That Purpose.

AN INDUSTRIAL COURT

Is Proposed as a Means of Compelling Arbitration to Prevent Strikes and Lockouts; Attorney Samuel Untermeyer, Known Here, Is Interested.

Bills proposing the incorporation of labor unions and the establishment of an industrial court in this state are reported to be in preparation for presentation to the legislature at Albany this month, says the New York correspondent of the Daily Metal Trade. If the present sentiment of the investigators who have been inquiring into the building situation in this city in the past several months prevails, these bills will receive the endorsement of the investigating committee and the sanction of its attorney, Samuel Untermeyer, known in Fayette county as attorney for the J. V. Thompson Creditors' Committee.

The attorney has been somewhat cryptic regarding his personal stand on the proposed labor legislation as Mr. Untermeyer has frequently, in the capacity of attorney, represented labor in important cases, whereas now he is in the position of a critic of labor. The building investigation for which Mr. Untermeyer is attorney has unearthed numerous practices of the local labor bodies which are decidedly objectionable in the interest of the general public, and even Mr. Untermeyer has been compelled by force of circumstances to serve notice upon the unions that either they reform or the state will be requested to enact the proposed legislation. This threat has been modified somewhat by a back-bite at the stock exchange, and similar unincorporated bodies, the enemy of which Mr. Untermeyer has been for many years.

State incorporation, it is believed, might make possible the suing of labor unions and thereby afford organizations of employers some means of compelling the unions to live up to the terms of wage and other agreements. In the past, when labor became scarce, unions have not always hesitated about calling strikes merely because wage agreements had not expired. It has frequently been contended that if labor unions were compelled to be incorporated many of the evils brought about largely by activities of unscrupulous labor leaders would be obviated. That a formal charter should be required of unions also has been the contention in Washington, but the labor influences in congress has always been sufficiently strong to defeat these efforts.

In order to vitiate the advocacy of the incorporation law leaders among "federated" unions have been holding numerous conferences with Mr. Un-

Untermeyer and working out a revision of the by-laws of local unions and agreeing to numerous changes in union practices. Among these changes suggested is that apprentices up to 20 years of age be permitted. This was one of the important reforms demanded by Mr. Untermeyer and one which the "federated" leaders have tentatively agreed to. Furthermore these leaders have agreed to make certain changes in their by-laws which were dictated to them by their national unions, expecting to obtain the sanction of the local unions to these changes at a later date.

Leaders of the "federated" unions have announced with no undecided voice that union labor is opposed to the incorporation movement. If that bill is introduced in the legislature the union officials state, it will stop one of the biggest evils this state has witnessed in years. Such a bill, they claim, strikes at the root of the whole question. With such a law on the books the state would have complete control of unions and could prescribe all rules and regulations of the unions. It is to check the movement for such a bill that the union leaders are now exhibiting a willingness to make compromises.

But this, it appears, is aside from the other demand that the state establish an industrial court. The labor leaders declare that such a bill is now being drafted, that they have been advised of it, but they refuse to state the authorship of the bill. At the same time the labor leaders have let it become known that they will oppose the establishment of an indus-

The Spotlight

Wherein the glare of "Pitless Publicity" is turned upon some of the more-apt-to-be-overlooked of the many White Sale bargains.

A GROUP OF UNDERWEAR AT ONE-HALF PRICE—It's a White Sale Special—this lot of handmade underwear, muslin and silk included. You'll find gowns, chemises, petticoats, bloomers, drawers, corset covers and camisoles in plentiful profusion—all of them eye-taking values at this price. Originally $1 to $10 they are now marked 50c to $5.

—Second Floor

MOTHERS who have sons who are in the habit of smoking cigarettes in bed—as well as housewives in general—will appreciate this value. Crocheted bed spreads, full size, that were $4.50 and $5.50 reduced to $3.35 each. This should sound the death knell of many a spread that's come to be regarded as a bit of an heirloom.

TOWELS are something that few women have bought of late years so it's cheering to see that the sale brings them back within reach of most of our purses. Soft bleached cotton buck towels are selling 3 for 50c. Turkish towels are going at 12 1/2c per pair—according to size. What a boon to the bathroom!

LINEN CLOSETS are inclined to be bleak in most houses. And it's hard to imagine where they could be more completely and economically refilled than down here today. For only 55c there are damask cloths, in irregular weaves, a scarcely noticeable effect, which measure 71x72. At $1.75 dozen there are hemmed cotton napkins 18 inches wide. And many another linen price-revelation.

STOUT LADIES should be glad to know that they need diet no longer in hope of reduction. That latter is here. A 1/2 stylish Stout underlinings are reduced 25%—gowns, envelope chemises, drawers, petticoats in sizes 43 to 56, especially designed for the more generously proportioned.
